Short Abstract

Kilparrin Teaching and Assessment School and Service is located at Park Holme in South Australia. Kilparrin provides a pre-school program, on site school program and a state – wide support service for children and learners with complex sensory impairment/s and additional disabilities.

The aim of our presentation is to provide an overview of the emergent literacy activities operating within Kilparrin School and the success of these inclusive practices for children with vision and/or hearing impairment, additional disabilities and complex communication needs.
