

Professor Yacine Ait-Sahalia, Princeton University (Financial Econometrics)

Yacine Ait-Sahalia is the Otto A. Hack 1903 Professor of Finance and Economics and Director of the Bendheim Center for Finance at Princeton University. Prior to joining Princeton in 1998, he was Professor of Finance at the University of Chicago Graduate School of Business, received his PhD in Economics from MIT in 1993 and is a graduate of France's Ecole Polytechnique. He has published widely in leading academic journals and has been distinguished for research and teaching excellence. He is an elected fellow of the Institute of Mathematical Statistics, the Econometric Society and the American Statistical Association